SENIOR ASSISTED LIVING: Respecting Mind, Body and Spirit

Mr. Antonio Riley
Executive Director
Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority

January 22, 2008

Dear Mr. Riley,

I am writing to express my support for the affordable housing tax credit application being submitted for Fairview Crossing, Plymouth, by Crown Court Properties, Ltd.

As the owner of 13 acres with a brand new 2.5 million dollar Senior Assisted Living Community and a second to begin construction in March, it is of utmost concern to me that this neighborhood certainly serve those in economic need, but do so aesthetically.

I have spoken with two representatives of Crown Court Properties, Ltd and find them to be reputable and sincere in their endeavor to rehabilitate the apartments and maintain them for a period if 15 years.

Libby's House would like to work collaboratively with management and tenants of this complex by offering senior support groups, intergenerational opportunities and, when they are no longer able to remain independent, we would consider them being housed at our community.

Plymouth is an extraordinary city with great involvement and dedication by its city fathers, its tradition in family and its commitment to advocate for those whose means may be limited. I am proud to be part of it and certainly hope Libby's House has the opportunity to share this responsibility with Crown Court Properties, Ltd.

Sincerely,

Christine M. Thill, RN
